Air Quality Alerts

Sometimes weather, pollution, or smoke can make the air outdoors less safe to breathe.

The safety of the air is measured by air quality.

If the air is unsafe, there may be an Air Quality Alert.

I will sign up for CodeRed Pennsylvania alerts to stay informed about Air Quality Alerts.

If there is an Air Quality Alert in my area, there are some things I can do to keep my body healthy and safe.

I will not go outside unless I really have to.

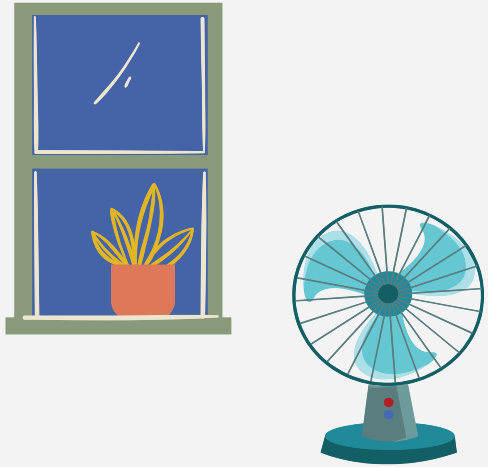

Air Quality Alerts

If I have to go outside, I should not exercise. I can wear a mask if I have one.

I can close the windows and use fans inside my home.

If it's hard to breathe, or if I feel sick or dizzy, I will call 911.

AID in PA
Autism and Intellectual Disabilities in Pennsylvania

ASERT
Bringing autism resources together.

Pennsylvania's leading source of autism-related resources and information
877-231-4244

The ASERT Collaborative is funded by the Office of Developmental Programs, PA Department of Human Services