

PREPARING FOR WINTER WEATHER

In Pennsylvania snow and ice storms are common and there are ways you can prepare for them.

Before the storm, you can spread rock salt on your sidewalk and driveway. This will help melt snow or ice.

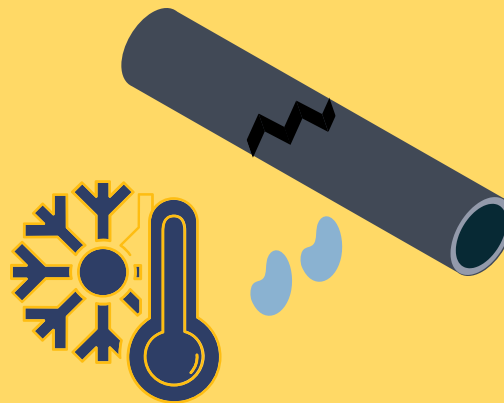

Have a shovel ready in case a lot of snow falls. If you need to shovel dress warmly and take breaks.

Inside you can close doors to rooms you don't use and put towels at the bottoms of doors that lead outside. This will help keep heat in one area.

If the weather is so cold that a pipe cracks in your house, remember to turn off the water to prevent serious leaks.

If you need to leave your house, you can watch trusted news to find out road conditions and any driving restrictions.
